Agenda item 83

OPERATIONAL ACTIVITIES FOR DEVELOPMENT

Comprehensive statistical data on operational activities for development for the year 1991

Note by the Secretary-General

Addendum

1. The present addendum is submitted in compliance with resolution 35/81 of 5 December 1980. It complements the 1992 report for the triennial comprehensive policy review of operational activities of the United Nations system (A/47/419) and provides detailed statistical data for the year 1991. The addendum contains an overview of the situation with regard to resources channelled through the organizations of the United Nations system and forecasts of resources for the main funding organizations.

2. At the request of Member States information is also provided on the procurement of goods and services through the United Nations system.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The present document is prepared in accordance with the requirements contained in General Assembly resolution 35/81 of 5 December 1980.

2. The statistical appendix, appendix I, is divided into two parts: A - Contributions from Governments and other sources for operational activities of the United Nations system, and B - Expenditures on operational activities of the United Nations system. Each part, in its turn, consists of a number of tables that can help study the subject from different angles and perspectives. Part B also contains tables on expenditures on operational activities of the United Nations system in the least developed countries.

3. A separate chapter summarizing the outlook for resources for the coming year from the point of view of the main funding organizations of the United Nations system is provided in appendix II.

4. The main sources of the statistical tables are the financial statements of the United Nations funds and programmes, including the World Food Programme (WFP), internal reports of the World Bank and the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), and previous statistical addenda to the reports on operational activities of the United Nations system.

5. Tables A-1, A-5, A-6 and B-1 cover information for 1987-1991, while all other tables deal with 1991 data only. Graphics are used for easier comparisons and illustration of the trends for a number of tables.

II. FUTURE TRENDS

The World Bank

6. New commitment to developing countries from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Development Association (IDA) totalled US$ 21.7 billion in fiscal year 1992 (1 July 1991 to 30 June 1992). The comparable figure for fiscal year 1991 was $22.7 billion. IBRD loans for fiscal year 1992 totalled $15.2 billion, while the total for IDA credits was SDR (Special Drawing Rights) 4.8 billion ($6.5 billion equivalent).

7. New IBRD and IDA lending commitments to Africa in fiscal year 1992 rose to just under $4 billion, a nearly $600 million increase over fiscal year 1991 commitments. In fiscal year 1991, the countries constituting the Bank's Asia region received $7.5 billion in new IBRD/IDA commitments. During fiscal year 1992, this group of countries now divided into two regions - South Asia (Cambodia, China, Fiji, Indonesia, Kiribati, Korea, Lao People's Democratic Republic, Maldives, Malaysia, Mongolia, Myanmar, Papua New Guinea, Philippines, Solomon Islands, Thailand, Tonga, Vanuatu, Viet Nam and Western Samoa) and East Asia and the Pacific (Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka) - received $8.1 billion in new commitments from IBRD and IDA. In fiscal year 1992 IBRD/IDA commitments to the countries of Europe and Central Asia totalled $2.1 billion, down from $3.9 billion in fiscal year 1991. Countries constituting the Bank's Middle East/North Africa region (Algeria, Bahrain, Egypt, Islamic Republic of Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Malta, Morocco, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Syrian Arab Republic, Tunisia, United Arab Emirates and Yemen) received $1.5 billion, compared with $2.0 billion the previous year.

8. Combined IBRD/IDA gross disbursements reached $16.4 billion, compared with $16.0 billion in fiscal year 1991. IBRD gross disbursements totalled $11.6 billion, up to $200 million from fiscal year 1991. IDA gross disbursements amounted to $4.7 billion, an increase of $100 million from the previous year. Combined IBRD/IDA net disbursements amounted to $6.2 billion, down $200 million from fiscal year 1991.

9. Negotiations on a tenth replenishment of IDA's resources were launched in January 1992. IDA deputies are being urged to reach an agreement by the end of 1992 on a tenth replenishment, preferably at a level substantially above that of the ninth. Resources contributed under the tenth replenishment will provide the Association with funds to cover credit commitments in the period fiscal 1994 until fiscal 1996.

10. During the year, agreement was reached on a restructuring of the Global Environment Facility (GEF). It was also agreed that the GEF should be available as the interim funding mechanism for the conventions on climate change and biodiversity, which were signed by more than 150 countries at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development in June 1992. The GEF, established in 1990, provides concessional resources to help finance programmes and projects in developing countries in four areas: protection of the ozone layer, biodiversity, international waters and the limitation of emissions of greenhouse gases. The Facility is jointly implemented by the Bank, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), and the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP).

11. Assistance to the adjusting low-income countries in sub-Saharan Africa is guaranteed through the launching of the second phase of the Special Programme of Assistance. In October 1990, 18 donors pledged $7.4 billion in co-financing and coordinated financing to be committed over three years, 1991-1993. By the end of 1991, Special Programme Assistance donors had allocated some $4.5 billion, or nearly 60 per cent of the projected residual financing gaps for 1991-1993, for eligible countries.

United Nations Development Programme

12. Voluntary contributions to the core programme for 1992 are estimated at $1,064 million at United Nations exchange rates prevailing in June 1992. Contributions pledged to UNDP-administered funds are estimated at $40 million. With non-core extrabudgetary resources of an additional $300 million (excluding management services), total resources channelled through UNDP would amount to approximately $1,400 million for 1992.

13. Non-core resources continue to be an increasingly important and welcome source of additionality for specific countries and themes. All such cost-sharing and trust fund arrangements are executed within the context of either a country or intercountry programme, thus supporting the development priorities of recipient Governments.

United Nations Population Fund

14. Income to the general resources of UNFPA for 1992 is estimated at $230 million as at 30 April, representing an increase of approximately 2.7 per cent over 1991. In addition supplemental extrabudgetary resources for specific projects and programmes through multi-bilateral and other financing are expected to reach $10 million, bringing the total amount of new financial resources available to UNFPA for the year 1992 to $240 million. During the course of the year, this figure will be adjusted as the value of the United States dollar fluctuates.

15. In the work plan for 1993-1996 and the request for programme expenditure authority presented to and approved by the UNDP Governing Council at its thirty-ninth session in May 1992, UNFPA projected its income for 1993-1996 for general resources at $1,117 million ($248 million in 1993, $268 million in 1994, $289 million in 1995 and $312 million in 1996). This reflects an increase of 8 per cent per annum.

16. The income growth scenario for 1993-1996 takes into account the growing consensus in the international community of the need to mobilize and increase the resources for population activities. This consensus has been expressed in the Amsterdam Declaration and reiterated by the General Assembly in resolution 45/216 of 21 December 1990, as well as Governing Council decision 90/35 A. UNFPA enjoys enthusiastic support from its donors, especially its major donors, and there is every expectation that the resource goals required effectively to address population issues will be achieved.

17. It is important to emphasize that the income estimates for 1993-1996 do not include a contribution from the United States of America. If the United States Government decided to resume its support of UNFPA, the income projection for this period would be revised upwards.

United Nations Children's Fund

18. UNICEF forecasts general resources income to be $518 million in 1992, an increase of 2.4 per cent over 1991. For the period 1992-1995 total general resource income is forecast to increase at an average annual rate of 7.4 per cent, reaching $641 million in 1995. The percentage increases are somewhat distorted by the extraordinary loss in other income that will occur in 1992 due to the devaluation of the rouble. Excluding the effect of the devaluation, general resource income increases 4.8 per cent in 1992 and then increases at an average annual growth rate of 5.6 per cent.

19. Based on the result of the November 1991 pledging conference, additional pledges and latest expectations, UNICEF forecasts government contributions to general resources of $412 million in 1992. For the period 1993-1995, UNICEF forecasts an average annual growth of 5.5 per cent.

20. UNICEF projects non-government contributions to be $25 million in 1992 and then increase about $2 million a year.

21. UNICEF records the net income from Greeting Card Operation (GCO) as income to general resources. Net GCO income includes income from the sale of GCO products, private sector fund-raising, special fund-raising events and new initiatives. UNICEF forecasts net income from GCO of $83 million in 1992, and that income from GCO will increase to $106 million by 1995.

22. UNICEF receives contributions for supplementary funds for programmes as well as for emergency relief. Total supplementary fund contributions are forecast at $312 million in 1992. An average growth rate of 6.6 per cent from 1992-1995 will bring total supplementary funds contributions to $378 million in 1995.

23. UNICEF expects total annual income from all sources at $830 million for 1992, and to exceed $1 billion by 1995.

World Food Programme

24. By the end of March 1992, more than half way through the pledging period for regular resources - total multilateral pledges and contributions to WFP for the biennium 1991-1992 amounted to over $2.19 billion, exceeding the total multilateral resources for the entire biennium 1989-1990, itself a record, by nearly 23 per cent. Because of the increase in relief activities, total multilateral resources made available to WFP for the whole biennium 1991-1992 are expected to exceed $2.6 billion. This includes contributions or pledges to WFP's regular resources (including those for the feeding of long-term refugees and displaced people), the Food Aid Convention, the International Emergency Food Reserve and contributions for Afghan refugees and returnees and other special emergency operations. The major increases in 1991-1992 are for relief needs, including the International Emergency Food Reserve, long-term refugees and displaced people and special emergency operations.

25. In 1991, in addition to $64.5 million of non-food resources provided to WFP for special emergency operations, 11 donors channelled $14.5 million worth of such non-food items through WFP in support of development and protracted refugee projects. The items provided included agricultural tools, vehicles and personnel. Other trust funds such as bilateral services amounted to a record level of $257 million in 1991. Donors channelled approximately 1.2 million tons of commodities, valued at $250 million, through WFP's bilateral services in 1991. Services provided included purchasing, distribution and monitoring.

International Fund for Agricultural Development

26. An agreement on the third replenishment of IFAD resources of $522.9 million was reached at the reconvened twelfth session of the Governing Council in June 1989. With the additional pledges from Category III, which Category I countries had agreed to match on a three-to-one basis, total pledges as at January 1990 amounted to $566.6 million, with Category I contributing $186.6 million in core contributions and $191.5 million in supplementary contributions, Category II $124.4 million, and Category III $64.1 million.

27. In response to the persisting emergency situation in the mid-1980s in sub-Saharan African countries due to drought and desertification, the IFAD Governing Council and Executive Board decided to complement the regular programme of IFAD in the African region by launching a special programme for sub-Saharan African countries affected by drought and desertification, which became effective in 1986. The fund-raising campaign mobilized about $300 million in additional resources over a three-year period.

28. With the approval of three loans in 1991 for Chad, Senegal and Zambia, the special programme drew to a close with the approval of 29 loans for 21 sub-Saharan African countries. IFAD's commitments to these projects amount to SDR 222.3 million in loans and grants.

29. The fifteenth session of IFAD's Governing Council held at Rome from 21 to 23 January 1992 decided to continue the special programme in a second phase, with the aim to consolidate the achievements of the first phase and to extend benefits to other areas in sub-Saharan Africa, a region facing particularly difficult development and environmental challenges. In order to be able to provide an appropriate response to these needs, the second phase is aiming at mobilizing additional resources of about $30 million. Five Category I countries, namely France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Italy and Sweden, have already announced substantial contributions totalling about $73 million for the second phase. In addition Kuwait has made a contribution of $15 million and Nigeria has pledged $500,000 ($250,000 paid in November 1991).

30. Under the second phase, the IFAD special programme, with a targeted approach, can play an effective role in channelling much-needed resources to smallholder farmers, nomadic pastoralists and other rural groups who constitute over three quarters of the population in sub-Saharan Africa. Poverty alleviation through environmental preservation will be the main objective of the second phase of the special programme.

31. Contacts are currently under way among members of IFAD on the subject of the fourth replenishment. The first consultation on the fourth replenishment of IFAD resources was held on 12 and 13 April 1992 at Doha. The second meeting is scheduled for early July 1992.

III. PROCUREMENT ACTIVITIES OF THE UNITED NATIONS SYSTEM

A. Procurement of goods and services

32. Information and data provided in appendix II show that the measures adopted by organizations in the context of the Inter-Agency Procurement Working Group and through the Inter-Agency Procurement Services Office and in response to the recommendations of the General Assembly in its resolution 42/196 of 11 December 1987 are producing positive results, but should be rendered more systematic and call for the full cooperation of all organizations concerned if these results are to be maintained and further improved.

33. Total procurement in 1991 reached some $1,763 million as compared to $1,136 million in 1990, of which $556 million represented total procurement in developing countries. In percentage terms, the increase in total procurement was 55 per cent over 1990, with procurement of equipment increasing by 70.6 per cent and procurement of professional services through subcontracts increasing by 19.2 per cent.

34. Procurement from major suppliers (United States of America, Japan, Germany, United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Italy, France and Switzerland) amounted in 1991 to $691 million, or 39.2 per cent of total procurement, as compared to $587 million in 1990, or 51.7 per cent of total procurement.

35. Procurement from underutilized major donor countries (Canada, Denmark, Finland, Netherlands, Norway and Sweden) amounted to $225.7 million in 1991, representing 12.8 per cent of total agency procurement. Compared to the amount of $136.2 million recorded in 1990, this represents an increase of 65.7 per cent.

B. Food aid triangular transactions, trilateral operations and local purchases

36. WFP is the largest procurement agency in the United Nations system, with its over $700 million worth of purchase of food and transport services during 1991.

37. While few developing countries have the means to donate substantial quantities of food, many are sources of food that donors can purchase and use as food aid either locally or in other developing countries. In 1991, WFP bought a record 926,000 tons of food worth $196 million for distribution in developing countries. In value terms this is nearly 25 per cent more than the previous record of 1989. Of the purchases made in 1991, some 70 per cent were for WFP's own multilateral operations (for the regular pledge, the Food Aid Convention, refugees sub-set and the International Emergency Food Reserve and 30 per cent were made on behalf of bilateral donors.

38. More than 7 out of every 10 tons - a total of $142 million - were bought in developing countries. In all, WFP purchased food from 43 developing countries in 1991. In sub-Saharan Africa alone, WFP spent $60 million in 1991 for 232,000 tons of food.

39. Since 1985, WFP has bought more than $625 million worth of food in developing countries, in the process making the largest contribution to South-South trade within the United Nations system. For poor countries with surpluses of certain food commodities, these purchases can provide much-needed foreign exchange. For example, purchases of food by WFP in Uganda will account for an estimated 6 per cent of that country's projected total exports of goods and services in 1991-1992. Purchasing food in developing countries may also help promote intercountry trade over the longer term.

40. WFP makes every effort to increase its utilization of developing country transport services wherever possible. In 1991 a total of $176.1 million was paid to developing countries for transport-related services, of which $155.3 million was for overland transport. Payment for shipments in developing countries' vessels increased by 37 per cent, from $15.3 million in 1990 to $20.9 million in 1991.

41. In addition, a total of $124 million was spent on services provided by developing countries for handling, storage and internal distribution of WFP food aid.

IV. NOTE ON STATISTICAL INFORMATION

General note

42. Coverage, definition and sources for the figures used in the present report are consistent with those for previous years' reports in this series. Modifications have been made to data presentation, column headings and table titles in the interest of greater clarity and internal consistency. Explanations of special cases, or of instances in which table totals do not match, have been given attention in the footnotes to tables.

Definitions and explanations

43. For information on the sources of data, see paragraph 45 of the first (1981) annual report (A/36/478, annex) and the footnotes to the tables.

44. The data represent final figures for 1991. Should any further revisions or updating later prove necessary, this would be communicated to the General Assembly.

45. Data on contributions refer to contributions received from Governments and other sources by organizations in the United Nations system, and the net profits from the UNICEF Greeting Card Operation. Data on other income, related to resource transfers from one agency of the system to another, interest and so on are excluded.

46. Data on expenditures and disbursements represent the support provided by organizations to the programmes and projects of developing countries; administrative, programme and other support costs, where identifiable, are excluded.

47. UNICEF and WFP carry out both development assistance and some activities that are of a humanitarian or emergency character. Because of the difficulty of separate identifications, the related contributions and expenditures are all grouped under development assistance.

48. With regard to loans, net disbursements represent gross disbursements less repayment of principal; net transfers represent net disbursements less interest and other charges.

49. The expression "United Nations funds and programmes" refers to the funds and programmes listed by the General Assembly for participation in the annual United Nations pledging conference for development activities to the resources for operational activities of the organizational entities of the United Nations (see table B-5), and to other United Nations trust funds pertaining to development activities.

50. The designations employed and the presentation of the material in the present report do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the Secretariat of the United Nations concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries.

51. The term "country" as used in the present report also refers, as appropriate, to territories or areas.

52. References to dollars ($) are to United States dollars unless otherwise stated. A full stop is used to indicate a decimal point. Two dots (..) indicate that data are not available or are not separately reported. Parentheses () indicate a deficit or decrease, except as otherwise indicated. A dash (-) indicates that the amount is nil or negligible or the item is not applicable. A hyphen (-) between dates representing years signifies the full period involved, including the beginning and end years.

53. Details and percentages in tables do not necessarily add to totals, because of rounding.

54. The following abbreviations have been used:

a/ I.e., UNDP central resources, including expenditures financed from government cost-sharing contributions.

b/ Includes extrabudgetary expenditures by WFP project expenditures for development activities and emergency operations. Of the latter, most was financed from the International Emergency Food Reserve and the remainder from WFP general resources.

c/ The major share of such expenditures is financed by WHO.

d/ I.e., from funds not elsewhere specified in the table. Also included are expenditures financed fro government "self-supporting" contributions, as noted in memo item.

e/ Includes expenditures by UNCHR, UNWRA, UNDRO, and United Nations trust funds for emerge assistance (including special economic assistance programmes). Regarding expenditures for WFP emergency operations, see footnote (b) above.

f/ Represents services engaged by Governments receiving loans and credits from international development banks or resources from bilateral donors.

g/ I.e., gross disbursements on "training" and "consultants" embodied in IBRD loans and IDA credit to borrowers.

h/ The amounts of recipients governments' own resources spent, which are included above in the figures for line 7 (extrabudgetary) are here separated out for reference.

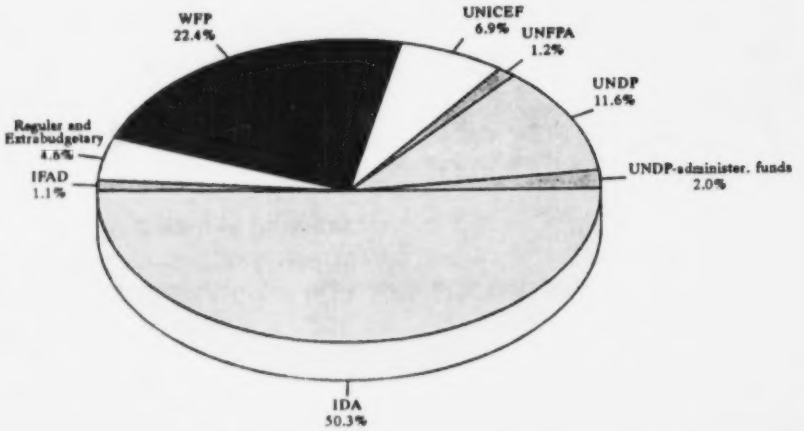
Expenditures on operational activities of the United Nations system, in the least developed countries 1991



APPENDIX II

A. 1991 Annual Statistical Report on Agency Procurement Activities*

1. At the initial request by the Director-General for Development and International Economic Cooperation in 1984, IAPSO prepared a statistical report on 1982/1983 agency procurement, which served as a basis for the Director-General's report on operational activities for development of the United Nations system, submitted to the thirty-ninth session of the General Assembly (A/39/417). The General Assembly, by resolution 39/220, established the need for such reporting on a recurrent basis and encouraged agencies to cooperate with IAPSO in this important exercise. The statistical report is being prepared by IAPSO annually on the basis of regular follow-ups with the reporting agencies.

2. At the thirty-sixth session of the UNDP Governing Council, IAPSO was requested to include data on other components of technical cooperation such as experts, consultants, national professional project personnel, fellowships and volunteers, thus providing a more complete picture of national return flow. This was also pursued by the Director-General in November 1990 by a letter addressed to all organizations of the United Nations system.

Preparatory work

3. In preparation of this year's report, IAPSO issued a letter in October 1991 to all organizations of the United Nations system, requesting that data be submitted on supplied computer diskettes, providing statistics broken down by country of procurement, country of origin, and subcontracts by country of head office. At the request of the Governing Council as well as the Director-General, agencies were also requested by letter in November 1991 to provide statistics pertaining to experts, consultants, volunteers by country of nationality and assignments along with fellowships by country of nationality and placement.

4. In order to present a more complete picture of the above statistics, UNDP field offices were also requested to provide data on procurement, international and national project personnel, United Nations Volunteers, fellowships related to Government Executed Projects, along with housekeeping expenses which cover all costs connected with the running of the field offices. Housekeeping expenditures pertaining to the agency's headquarters have not been included.

* Prepared by Inter-Agency Procurement Services Office (IAPSO), May 1992.

General comments

5. In general, responses from the various organizations of the United Nations system have been encouraging except for data related to country of origin which could not easily be obtained. Accordingly, the data concerning the country of origin has not been incorporated in this report. To reduce the future reporting workload of the agencies, data pertaining to country of origin will not be requested.

6. The enclosed report is based on data received from ASDB, ECE, FAO, IAEA, ICAO, ILO, IMO, ITC, ITU, PAHO, UN/ECLAC, UN/ESCAP, UN/ESCWA, UN/CTC, UN/CPTS, UNCTAD, UNCHS, UNDP/DTCD, UN/OPS, UNEP, UNESCO, UNFPA, UNHCR, UNICEF, UNIDO, UNRWA, UNU, UPU, WFP, WHO, a/ WIPO, WMO, WTO and the World Bank, including feedback from 96 UNDP field offices concerning Government Executed Projects and Houskeeping expenses. New agencies which have reported this year are UN/CPTS and WFP. Procurements by these organizations represents nearly 30 per cent of the total by the United Nations system or organizations which obviously complicates direct comparison with previous years.

7. The term UMDC (Under-utilized Major Donor Country) is used in this report to designate those developed countries (Canada, Denmark, Finland, the Netherlands, Norway and Sweden) whose return value in relation to their voluntary core contribution to UNDP over the past five years is low compared with other industrialized countries.

8. The term "Procurement" includes the acquisition of both goods and services. The scope of goods covers both equipment and supplies; services encompass hiring of contractors or consultants to carry out services under subcontracts, as contrasted to the hiring of individual experts and consultants.

Government-executed projects under United Nations Development Programme funding

19. Of the 113 UNDP field offices contacted, 103 have supplied figures for procurement of goods and services under Government-executed projects:

Percentage distribution of procurement from 1989 to 1991:

Developed countries	54.2	41.0	60.0
Developing countries	46.8	59.0	40.0
Total	100.0	100.0	100.0

Totals for the 103 field offices reporting for 1991:

	US$ million	%
Developed countries	38.0	60
Developing countries	25.5	40
Total	63.3	100

The above figures relate to country of procurement - it was not possible to obtain details on country of origin.

"Housekeeping" expenditures (UNDP field offices)

20. Details of housekeeping expenditures, pertaining to all costs connected with the running of a field office was requested from all UNDP field offices. The total for the 96 field offices reporting is about US$ 13.6 million.

21. It should be noted that these costs pertain to local costs paid by resident representatives.

22. No breakdown is available pertaining to country of origin for housekeeping items which have been purchased locally.

International project personnel

23. Some 9,906 international project personnel were assigned during 1991 under UNDP-funded projects in developing countries and this represents a decrease of 7.1 per cent in numbers over the 1990 figure.

24. The female project personnel constituted nearly 10.3 per cent of the total figure.
